2023: Industry Equilibrium, New materials & Natural outdoor range

We are pleased to present the 2023 catalogue!

The interior industry has calibrated back to a pre-covid equilibrium with the markets open and the container prices stabilized. A good time to pick up where we left off and continue developing new product lines and continue to evolve together with our customers.

In the 2023 collection you will find our staple collection of natural, minimalistic designs along with new products consisting of new material combinations. Different types of banana leaves, local natural stone and an outdoor collection consisting of solid outdoor teak and rattan are among the new product types added to our range.

As usual we've struck a balance between our quality standard and material types and the price level. If the price level does not meet your target, we can discuss how to use alternative materials or adapt design, construction and size without compromising on strength and aesthetics.

New Outdoor Collection!

We've developed a new furniture range that is made for full outdoor use. Combinations of natural hard teak wood with a strong outdoor finish, synthetic rattan, powder coated iron and outdoor fabrics make the products weather proof, without compromising on the natural, original look that is line with the rest of our collection. We will be adding more outdoor products to our range every year from now on.

knock down system to utilize volume

With the shaky logistics and transportation prices it has become increasingly important to load a container as efficiently as possible.

We offer a large scale of knock down (KD) products that can be stacked to maximize the volume in a container. On location they can be assembled by easily screwing the separate parts together. We will provide an assembling manual where needed.

Natural Materials from the Source

We've added new types of natural, locally sourced materials to our 2023 collection, among others palm stone which comes from a mountain next to our production facility; you could not get closer to the source :) The stone has a soft, neutral look with light veins. Each piece is hand-chiseled to its shape, giving every table top a character of its own.
